Hi Folks: (Didn't get your first names)

Nice talking to you on the phone. I don't run into too many people who can talk about the Lizzie Borden trial although there are a few aficionados still around.

I am enclosing a check for $26.65 for the book. (Fall River Tragedy -- Porter) It must be great being in the publishing business -- I love books. Worked for Bailey Press on Causeway St. (opposite Boston Garden for a few months -- helped out on Mayor Curley's last campaign, it was about 1943 or '44 and I would sit down with Mary Curley and all the rest of them making up the crazy copy and hoopla for election time.)

Visited the Borden family plot near my aunt's house one or twice. Everybody and his brother must have made gravestone rubbings on the granite shaft. Lizzie's name is on there as Lizbeth but I understand that's the way she wanted it. Guilty as hell but lucky. High society didn't want their little girl condemned nohow !!!

Remind me to show you a note from Jennings demanding that Dr. Dolan return the skulls of Mr. & Mrs. Borden to Lizzie and Emma. I guess she was really sentimental afterall !

Best wishes,

Don Dolan

One of my former pupils showed me that latest book on Liz. He asked me what I thought of it. My reply was unprintable !
